The Liberty of the Press. In a small community such as our own, public writers are at a manifest disadvantage, from the very fact of their being individualized too much by the narrow circle who read the daily papers. The writings of an unknown author dwelling in the centre of a crowd, personally unknown, as well to those who read his articles, as to those high or low, whose actions as public men call in any way for comment, whose good deeds demand notice, or whose shortcomings deserve criticism, will always command more attention than any remarks emanating from the pen of one known to all the community, amongst whom he writes. The public are very apt to supply motives which have in fact no existence, and are too much disposed to attribute to personal feelings any marked expression of opinion coming from Jone well known to them. If, for instance, a member of our local press in the course of his avocations, has to perform the unpleasant duty of holding up for public censure the public acts of any one holding office in the Colony, he is supposed by many to be writing in furtherance of some private interests; if, on the other hand, his comments be favorable, he is at once accused of servility and time serving. In large cities members of the press cannot as a general rule be identified with particular articles by the public, and as a result of this immunity from observation they are able to express themselves more freely than the writers in small towns are inclined to do. But occasions must sometimes arise, in which a public writer would be derelict in duty if he silently passed over anything in the conduct of a public man which calls forth remark; and when those occasions do arise amongst us, we shall not shrink from our duty, It is as much the boast of Englishmen that their press is bold and outspoken as that it is free and untrammeled; there is no office so high, no person so exalted as to be above criticism. It is a part of the English system of jurisprudence that all the Courts of Law are open to the public, and it would be a most dangerous retrogression to take one atom of publicity away from them. We deem it as much our duty, as it is our earnest desire to avoid and abstain from making any remarks in our columns which would in the remotest way tend to bring the judicial office into contempt. The Press, as the exponent of public sentiments, is above all other things concerned in upholding the Judiciary. The purity and impartiality of the Bench are the safeguards of the public, and any attempt on the parof the Press to influence opinion during the trial of a cause is most reprehensible and calls for the severest censure. The Chief Justice of our Supreme Court has thought our report of Tuesday's proceedings, in the case of Dickson vs. Woods, worthy of censurable notice. The case was not one in which the evidence could have been given verbatim with any profit to our readers, but if we had refrained from putting on record that which was noticeable to all parties pre-pers, now before us, which in commenting seems a matter of grave regret, nay for grave | Physicians in this neighborhood and have complaint, against Mr Justice Blackborn's charge, that he ommitted to recite "certain words at length, and further in contrasting Tenn. the ruling of the learned judge with that of the Lord Chief Justice. "It is not a spectacle likely to enhance the respect of the English people, for law, when its highest judicial authorities speak somewhat like opposite coursel in the same premises," and so on to the end of a powerfully written article, commenting in no mild language upon the Judge's charge to the Grand Jury. Hundreds of other instances might be quoted of similar comments. Public opinion and the press as its exponent has assisted to make the English Bench the noble institution that it is, and the bench, whilst fully justified in reprobating any approach to licentiousness in the press, must abstain from trenching upon its freedom of remark. We are glad that the Chief Justice noticed that which he thought unbecoming in our report, for it gives us the opportunity of saying, that much as we honor the dignity of the bench, and much as we respect the talents and ability of the present occupant of the bench, we cannot admit the existence of infallibility in any mortal being, and regards less of consequences, we must speak out when necessary. It has been said by a wellknown writer that an editor must be " thick skinned." We will go further and say that to do his duty, particularly in a small community, he must have no feelings, and no friends, Let a writer be bold and truthful if he would command respect, careless of offence where attack is needed, and unflinching where abuses require exposure; if he seeks tho public good, where personal feelings or private grievances begin to exercise an undue

Convention.

We hear it stated, on good authority. hat it is proposed to hold a Convention at Yale on the 24th of August, or thereaboutscomposed of delegates from all sections of the Colony. The object of the movers in this matter, is to take no half-and-half measures; but to go to the very root of popular grievances, even if it be necessary to ask for the removal of Gov. Seymour and his satel-Nor do they seem disposed to content themselves with applying to Gov. Seymour and his puppet councillors, but to go to headquarters for redress-to her Majesty herself, and her Ministers. Not the least among the measures with which it is suggested that the Convention shall deal, is Confederation with Canada on equitable terms, and representative institutions with responsible government, and a thorough exposure of the extravagance and worse-than-do-nothingism of the present government. We presume that a public meeting will shortly be held here for the appointment of delegates to the Convention; and we sincerely hope that the movers in the matter wil. meet with that cordial support from our citizens that they deserve. It is apparent to everybody that we can neither labor for liberty or presperity so long as Gov. Seymour holds the reigns of power. We have given him and his staff a fair trial and found them unfit to govern Let us now seek a change. Let us seek it at once. The mainland from New Westminster to Cariboo is for a change. Let our island population in town and country unite with the mainland in sending delegates to the Yale Convention, and make short work of the miserable governmental incubus that peralyzes the best energies of the people. The redress of all the grievances of the Colony are nearly in the people's own hand. It estina and retired tologen notice part to get redress in a constitutional way. Remain passive under our present imbecile and worse than imbecile government, and the people may complain, and go on complaining, to no purpose, till doomsday. Let the people then act. Let them hold a Convention. Let the Convention give full expression to the wants and wishes of the people and let that expression be presented to the Queen-and our word for it, success will be the result.

Summer Weather.

The hot, sultry month of August is now apon us. The season when sickness is more atal than at any other time. When the body s relaxed, and nature can do least to receperate its exhausted strength. At this time we require to guard, with more than usual care, against the attacks of the great enemy-disease-by fortifying the system with HOSTET TER'S STOMACH BITTERS-the most wonderful tonic in the world. A tonic endorsed as a pure, harmless and effective FAMILY MEDICINE by millions of human beings who have thoroughly tested it and found immediate relief. By its aid the appetite is at once increased; digestion recovers its healthy once increased; algestion recovers its aeathy tone; the vital forces are invigorated, and new life infused into the system. The weak, debilitated and nervous victims awake to a feeling of true enjoyment, and life, once a burthen, becomes a source of pleasure.

Beware of the pernicious alcholic preparations, purporting to be tonics and stomachics, puffed up daily in the newspapers! Let them alone!

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is the one PURE and RELIABLE TONIC and INVIC onaton, and can be procured in every city, town and village in the country.

HOSTETTER'S BITTERS have a permanent reputation, which is rapidly increasing as the years go by. All others are but mushrooms of the bonr, and die off as quickly as they carber into a vision. spring into existence.

None but a physican knows how much a reliable alterative is needed by the people. On all sides of us, in all communities everywhere there are multitudes that suffer from complaints that nothing but an alterative cures, Hence a great many of them have been made and put abroad with the assurance of being offectual. But they fail to accomplish the cures they promise because they have not the intrinsic virtues they claim. In this state of freedom of the press to our own feelings of the case, Dr. J. C. Holloway's Ointment.—A fair trial is all that is asked to prove the sterling and superior merits of this Ointment, and to demonstrate how much more successful it is in curing old ulcers, inveterate sores, and disfiguring eruptions than any other application. When properly used it lessens the inflammation, which invades parts adjacent to the wound or ulcer, whereby much local pain is immediately assuaged, and, in the course of an hour or two, satisfactory results invariably follows, which will treadily advance to a thorough and permanent cure. This treatment, so much at variance with the old-fashioned views of cauterizing, blistering, leeching, &c., has by common consent been p nounced to the greatest blessing to persons thus afflicted.

DICKSON VS. WOOD.

This case was brought to a close yesterday by the adoption of a compromise suggested by His Lordship. Previously, however, Dr Dickson was recalled, and in answer to direct and cross-examination gave explanations respecting his diploma, which was produced and also a full statement of the medical curriculum in Canada.

Dr Powell corroborated the plaintiff's views with regard to the diploma and license

At the close of the plaintiff's case, Mr Wood asked a consuit on the following grounds: 1st, That irrespective of the Medical Act of British Columbia, by the common law of England, a physician has no legal remedy for his fees; and that the law of England being the law of this Colony mles the rights of parties; the English able to this Colony. 2. That under the late Medical Ordinance of the Colony, registration under the Act is compulsory, and the evidence showed that the registration was obtained on an affiidavit. informal and insufficient.

Medical Registration Acts being unapplic-

That at all events this ordinance applies to services since the passing of the Act (April 2nd, 1867) which cuts down plaintiff's claims to services for three months.

His Lordship then suggested that both sides should hold a consultation with a view to a compromise, as the case was surrounded by legal difficulties. After a short discussion, the plaintiff's counsel agreed to accept $1250; each party paying their own costs.

His Honor in the few remarks he addressed to the Jury said he felt bound to state that Dr Dickson had produced the necessary evidence of his being a regularly constituted medical man, possessing both the diploma which proved possession of the necessary knowledge, and the license which by law gave him the right to practice. As the case had been settled without going to the jury he felt bound to say that much distinctly. TO THE PRESS.

His Lordship then addressed the Court in reference to the report of the previous day's proceedings, which appeared in this paper He regretted exceedingly the necessity of speaking from the Bench upon this subject; but he felt it his dtuy to caution the reporters of the press present, upon the impropriety and danger of commenting on the actions or proceedings of the Court, especially before the case such comments bore upon was finished. Such a course, if followed up to the extent to which it might be pursued, would involve much risk to the guilty party. He did not wish to speak in a spirit of intimidation to the press; but he could not but feel the impropriety and inconvenience of having to defend justice from what was evidently an improper animadversion-and he therefore, hoped he should not have occasion to speak in this minner again. When motives were imputed to the Court which in validated the purity of justice, the best interests of society were involved, and it was his duty to protect them.

WRESTLING FOR THE CHAMPIONSHIP OF AMERICA AND $1000.—Major Thorp, of New York, long the backer of L. Ainsworth, a noted wrestler of New Haven, Conn., because of the latter's published declination to meet J. Mc-Laughlin, of Oneida, N. Y., in a series of 'collar and elbow' trials of skili, sought out Home Lane [Harry Hill's novice] and proffered, as Ainsworth's friend, to arrange a contest with him for the sum of $500 a-side, to take place three weeks from Monday, May 11th, within the limits of this city.

Lane, promptly accepted the terms proposed. Fifty dollars were immediately deposited by each party, articles of agreement signed, and to day agreed upon for the final payment the balance of the stakes. The style of wrestling will be the "collar and elbow" holds, the best two in three back falls to constitute a victory. These men have good records, are of conceded skill in the science of wrestling, about the same weight and height, and have almost an equal prestige of success. It has been determined that the match shall to an extent be of a private nature, each party being restricted to the admission of fitty friends, a method that will secure impartiality.

THE Royal Society of Tasmania has published results of twenty-five years' meteorological observations from Hobart l'own, together with a two-years' register of the principal atmospheric meteors and aurora nustralis, tabulated and discussed by Mr F. Abhot. To facilitate comparison, a meteorological summary from Adelaide, Melbourne, Sidney, and Auck-land, is added, and the publication is a praiseworthy contribution to the meteorology of our antipodes. The tables show that of all the places included in the list, Hobart Town enjoys the most equable climate; and favoured by insular position, Tasmania maintains her title as "Queen of the South."

Editorial Correspondence--No. 3.

New York, June 15, 1868, After a passage of 21 days and 6 hours rom San Francisco, I landed in this great busy and prosperous city on Wednesday evening last. The run down on the Pacific side was in every respect agreeable. We were on a safe and well appointed ship the Oregonian-commanded by Captain Sutton, a capable and a warmhearted son of the Emerald Isle, who was unceasing in his endeavors to render all on board happy and comfortable. The cabin accommodations were most excellent and the tables bountifully supplied. Not only was the captain a perfect gentleman in his intercourse with passengers, but all his officers and men were similarly inclined. When we reached Aspinwall and embarked on the Guiding Star for this port the contrast presented was most marked. We found the Guiding Star in a filthy condition; her cabin accommodation limited and filthy and her officers inattentive to the wants of the passengers. "Like master like man." The steward and stewardess, and the waiters impudent and inefficient, and the simplest service could not be had without a handsome donation being first made. First cabin passengers, who had bought tickets at San Francisco upon the verbal assurance of Mr Raymond and his clerks, that the acommodations on both ships were similar were thrust into the second cabin-being told there was no room for them in the first cabin, while an entire stateroom was reserved for a notorious cyprian, where she plied her nefarious calling uninterruptedly. The passengers, in fact, were treated with the greatest amount of neglect, indifference and supercitifousness by the wituches of the steamer, and the unanimous verdict of the unfortunate passengers was one of bitter ondemnation and censure of the company, that had the assurance to send a ship to sea officered and appointed as the Guiding Star On our way down, the Mexican coast

we touched at Manzanillo, took on board $300,000 in silver. This silver had come we toushed at Manzanillo, took on board 5300,000 in silver. This silver had come down from the interior in charge of an escort, and had been placed on board the U.S.S. Resaca for safety. When the Oregonian arrived the Resaca steamed a oreginal and league from land and placed the silver aboard the former, by which it was conveyed to Panama. While at this place I learned that the people were greatly disaffected wite the Juarez Government, and tha the States of Sinaloa, Sonora, Chibuahua and Lower California, were preparing to secede and tender their allegiance to the United States Government. The secession-ists claim to have 20,000 trained men warning; and they add that the movement is so well concerted, and the arrangements so perfect that failure is an impossibility.

Should the contemplated movement prove success ul, the Americans will secure with out money and without price, four provinces rich in mineral and other valuable resources to add to their already overgrown posses-sions. I have no confidence however, in the success of the movement. The Mexicanare a treacherous, deceitful nation, and, like the Fenians, for every traitor with pluck sufficient to put into execution his nefarious designs, at least two others stand ready to betray him to the authorities for a pecuinary consideration. You will read and hear a great dea You will read and hear a great dear about the Fenians and their contemplated movement upon Canada, but I see no evidence of activity among the Brotherhood hereabouts. Here they are generally unpopular. This week a great Fenian fair will be held at Buffalo in this State, the point here which the raid of Canada was made in from which the raid on Canada was made in 1866. The Dominion authorities acting on the adage that forewarned is forearmed, are preparing to give the invaders; should they come, a cordial reception. At the head of the Fenians is one Colonel O'Neil, a soldier who was on the side of the South during the last schalling. He appears to be a ing the late rebellion. He appears to be a leader of more ability than those who have preceded him as President of the Irish Republic at least, so his followers say. At any rate, he has not indulged in bluster or blatherumskite, and may, contemplate mischief of some kind; but as the Fenian treasury is in a state of collapse it is difficult to see how he will be able to do anything.

The Naw York Herald to-day calls on the President to put down any attempt at invasion by the riff-raff of which the Brotherhood is composed. The Herald holds the following energetic language:—"We have no means of knowing whether the Buffalo fair is intended only to be a sorre. It may or it may not. Certain it is, the time is not unfavorable for a Fenian raid. The Presidential campaign is at hand. Republicans and Democrats are equally anyons to secure and Democrats are equally anxious to secure the Irish vote. Republicans and Democrats, courage the Fenians, will not go their way to discourage them. If they do not help, it may be taken for granted that neither of the political parties will hinder them. In this lies the hope of the Fenians We cannot lorget that there is such a thing as regard for the honor of this great country. With Fenianism we have no special desire to intermedials; but we cannot permit Fanians. With Fenianism we have no special desire to intermeddle; but we cannot permit Fenianism or any other organization to disregard our laws and bring dishonor on the republic. We cannot allow the Fenians to make of this country a base of operations for carrying war into the territory of a people with whom we are at peace. All that we ask—and we have a right to ask it—is that the President in the event of another Fenian invasion, will see to it that the law be promptly and effectively excepted. We may have our gradges, but aven our gradges must be expressed with dignity. Filibustering is not worthy of a great people." The Herald, you will remember, was the original newspaper exponent of Penian intentions; and its sudden conversion to law and order show the disrepute into which the Order has fallen with its former friends.

New York has grown greatly since the proceded for my last visit—payards of twolve.

New York has grown greatly since the period of my last visit—upwards of twelve years ago. Miles of brick buildings now stand where then were forests and cornfields and numerous lines of horse railways inter-sect nearly all the principal thoroughfares. New Yorkers appear to have laid aside their republican simplicity and entered up-on a style of living and extravagance worthy of the aristogram families of the old world. The private residences on 5th avenue are truly grand structures. Stewart, the dry goods prince, has one under weigh at the corner of 34th street and 5th avenue, which will be the largest and most expensive private structure on the continent. $2,000,000 is the figure to be expended upon the building, and at least $1,500,000 on the farniture, paintings, statuery and ground decorations. Stewart is also enlarging his great business Stewart is also enlarging his great business palace by an addition of one acre and three-quarters in extent, free from petition walls. It is rumored that he designs opening the addition as a general store—that is, a store where every article in general use, from a clawhammer to a Broche shawl, or from a pound of sugar to a pair of boots, may be obtained without stepping onteide the building. Three buildings are in progression on Broadway—two for life insurance commendents. ing. Three buildings are in progression on Broadway—two for life insurance companies and one for a backing firm—each of which will cost a million dollars. In Broaklyn, building is going on even more rapidly than in New York. The buildings though less costly are nevertheless magnificent. Rents are high—a brick house with nine rooms readily commanding a rental of $1200 per annum, and I hear of some dwellings that rent for $3000. As soon as the foundations of a house are laid a dozen applicants make their adderance in tent if their adpearance to rent it.

Prices are awful. Flour of a quality that Prices are awful. Flour of a quality that no British Columbia bouse wife would make into broad, costs $17 per barrel; beef and mutton 28 and 30 cents per pound; veal, 35 cents, and every other necessary in proportion. It is true these prices are at currency rates, but in a city where gold and silver a pulsary avers the brokers, where the are unknown except to brokers, where the exhibition of a four-bit piece in a window draws a crowd of admirers who welcome it tas an old but not forgotten friend; where enderance and achievement in breaking stone the sight of five dollars in gold in the mands or whatever job may be assigned them. It of a 'sovereign' would secure bim the nomination of Alderman; where all contracts are made on a greenback basis—it will be seen that the cost of living in New York is relatively higher than at Victoria. For example: Here laborers receive $2 50 per day in currency, and pay the prices I have quoted: pie: Here laborers receive $2.50 per day in currency, and pay the prices I have quoted; while at Victoria they receive $2 and $2.50 and pay only one-half less than their New York contemporaries buy in greenbacks. The eyes of all parties are turned towards the Democratic Convention, which meets in this city on the 4th proximo to nominate candidates for President and vice President.

A large number of names were mentioned in connection with the nomination, but it is

are best for the first position on the ticket. Chase is or was a Conservative republican He was Mr Lincoln's Financial Minister and is styled the paternal relative of the greenback currency. Originally a Demo-erat ne wandered "a" into the Republican fold where he remained for some years; but lately distinguished himself by successfully the is a man of high attainments and unquestioned integrity. Should he receive the nom-ination Mr Chase will probably heat Gen Grant, who is the radical nominee. The Grant and Colfax treket creates enthesiasiam here notwithstanding the periodical shops are plastered over with cheap portraits of the distinguished gentlemen, and medals struck in their hoper are hawked about the streets. Colfax will be remembered as the gentleman who was entertained at a dinner at the Lyceum in Viotoria in 1865. I remembered we all admired the stand he then took in favor of amity between the two Angle Saxon families, and the noble sentiments which he employed to express his love for Old England, and I have not forgotten what disappointment we experienced when two months afterwards we read the report of a violent speech denunciatory of England, which he made before a Fenian autience in St Louis—a speech which stamp ed him as a most insecure and unreliable man. The political papers are filled with squibs concerning the candidates. Here is one o' the best—'The Dubuque (Iowa Herald, announcing that Grant and Colfax are ald, announcing that Grant and Collax are preparing for a trip among the Pawness and Araphoes, asks: When will our government see to it that these outrages upon the Indians are stopped. If they cannot survive firewater and smallp x why add to their trials Grant and Collax? Another paper that as strength and availability is the only set or switches of fives which the Dury. test or evidence of fitness which the Demo-crate require, we would ongest Dr Winship of Massachusetts, and Mike McCool of Missouri' as a strong ticket. And as a candisouri' as a strong ticket. And as a candidate's politice is a matter of perfect indifference, provided he can beat Grant,' we are not sure but that Zack Chandler and Jim Ashley would make a good run. With a view of uniting intemperance and temperance men, Dick Yates and Sam Carey would be a strong combination, and so would Andrew Lobbson, and Lobbson, B. Gangh. Andrew Johnson and John B Gough. Henry Ward Bercher and Brigham Young would not be a bad ticket, and we submit, finally, for consideration, a combination ticket upon which men and women of all par-ties might unite—a ticket composed of such names as Wendell Philips and Brick Pomeroy, Ben Wade and Vinnie Ream, the poet Longfellow and John Morrissey, or R P L

Baber and Anna Dickinson.'

According to his story, Ree guaranteeing him against loss, he purchased on the 18th and 19th of May from Polhamus & Jackson, 3 900 shares of Pacific Mail stock, on which he lost about $70 000, the guarantee proving of but little value. The transaction on which the suit arose, was no-cording to Moser's view, this: On the 19th cording to Moser's view, this: On the 19th of February he rode down town with Ree and they stopped at Pelhamius & Jackson's office, Bee ordered a further purchase of Pacific Mail stock in his own name, and Jackson and Ree went aside and had a conversation privately. On this order Jackson transferred several thousand shares to Moser and terred several thousand source to messa. Several affidavits are given in support of Ree's testimony. On the other hand the defendants, Polhemius & Jackson (Plaintiffs in the old case), say that the only connection during the suit they had with Ree was, that having commenced in ordinary course to examine Ree before trial, he (Ree) came to them and begged that they would not examine him, as it might prevent a compromise with his partner, which he expected to effect, and offered them that if they would delay it he would furnish them with documentary proof of partnership between himself and Maser; that they did then agree to postpone it, but he failed to give the testimony be had promised, and, finding his testimony very worthless, they had not pressed it. The Court sent it to a referee to determine whethe or the judgment had been obtained by a fraudulent suppression of testimony.

As they are in "splen did condition," they will be able to do a good deal of work in that time, and the possesor whatever job may be assigned them. It is many years since, if ever, Coburn and Mo-Cool addressed themselves to any useful employment. I find the following item from Washington in one of the city papers. It possesses considerable interest to Vancouver Lebenders to should we be admitted to the Confederacy soon, any treaty affecting Nova Scutia coal must similarly affect that of our production: "Reference was a short time ago made to a reported correspondenc between Mr Thornton and the Secretary of State in rela-tion to Nova Sectia coal. The documents have since been made public. It appears that last month Mr Thornton wrote to the Secretary that Lord Stanley had received a letter from the General Mining Association, calling his attention to the injury which has been inflicted on the coal producing interests of Nova Scotia by the abrogation of the reciprocity troaty, owing to the fact that, while large quantities of American coal are white large quantities of American coal are imported into Canada duty free, the Nova Scotia coal is now only admitted into the United States upon the payment of one-tourth of a dollar per ton in gold. Canada, he says, has been urged, but has declined, to resort to retaliatory measures. Mr Thoraton resort to retainatory measures. On Internation expresses the hope that steps will be taken to relieve Nova Scotia from a grievance which appears to produce no corresponding advantage to the interests of the United States. Mr Seward sent Mr Thornton's let-Sates. Mr Seward sent Mr Thornton's let-ter to the Secretary of the Treasury, who re-plied it would be inappropriate to negotiate any similar reciprocity treaty respecting trade with the provinces in the absence of a further expression of the views of Congress. He would, however suggest that the attention of Congress might be called to the subject of the communication of Mr Tho and he should cheerfully co-operate with the Secretary of State in urging an adjustmen of this question on a sound and permanent

You remember Little Lottie, a danseuse who came to Victoria some years ago with a negro minstrel band. She was then quite a negro ministrel band. She was then quite a child and showed considerable o'verness. Since attaining to womanhood Lotte haplayed long and successful engagements in this great city as a commedianne and has amassed wealth. The other day her strong box was robbed by her father—one Clabtree. who has lived on his daughter's earnings since she was four years of age—of $35,000, with which he decamped from New York after administering a heavy chastisement to both his wire and child. In this city Crab-tree was overhauled and made to disgorge his plunder, whereupon he was liberated and is now wandering about the streets of New York in a very forlorn condition.

TUESE different medicines represent the most recen

istry and Therapeutics. They must not be confounded with secret or quack medicines, as their names suffic has caused them to be appreciated and prescribed by the Faculty in the whole world. They widely differ from those numerous medicines advertised in the public papers as able to cure every possible disease, as they are unlicable only to but a very few complaints. The mos stringent laws exist in France with regard to the sale o medical preparations, and only those which have under gone an examination by the Academy of Medicine and have been proved efficacious, either in the hospitals or in the practice of the first medicalmen, are authorised by the Government. This fact must be a guarantee for the excellence of Messrs. Grimault et Co.'s Medi

COAL TAR

Liq. Carbon's Detergens—we are very split of the value of .ew reme. les, and it was in a spir descepticism that we tried the Hq. car bon's detergen. It is represented to be a concentrated alcohoid solution stituous of ocal tar, and to contain all the dents of the tar, to wit, beuzine, napithali, acid. The addition of water, with agitat durable emulsion, in which the tay remain fine suspension, aimost equivalent to solution, opeutical experience of the orepration is very satisfactory indeed. In our hands it has been a most effective agent in the case of various skin diseases, especially of the chronic excentatous class; and one case of psoriasis which had resisted all other kinds of treatment speeding of well under the application of the liq. carbonis detergens. We esteem it a very valuable addition to our lab of skin remodies, and worthy of a very extended trial by the profession. In the above classes of disease, and in various others, such as tetici duens, ote, the preparation is put into the form of soap.
